2016 Abeja Chardonnay Washington State

92 Points - Jeb Dunnuck “Abeja makes one of the best Chardonnay in the State and their 2016 Chardonnay is rock solid. Apple blossom, citrus, brioche, and hints of white flowers all emerge from this medium-bodied, balanced beauty that gains a touch of toasty, nutty notes on the finish. It's a beautiful, classic wine as well as a reference point example for the region.”

91 Points - Wine Enthusiast “This wine’s toast, pumpkin spice and peach aromas are followed by lithe, textured stone fruit flavors. It hits a lot of high marks and shows beautiful balance.”

Seattle Wine Magazine - WA Chardonnay of the Year “Washington Chardonnay of the year, for more than $40; Abeja Chardonnay has long been a benchmark white wine for Washington, and Walla Walla-based Dan Wampfler and Amy Alvarez-Wampfler keep the tradition going with this gorgeous vintage, drawn from a trio of vineyards scattered across the state: Celilo, Conner Lee and Abeja’s own estate Mill Creek Vineyard. Barrel tones of toast and nutty oak...swaddle a core of densely packed apple and nectarine fruit. The seamless texture is seductive as can be.”
